

Horsemanship Clinic with Cara & Jared Penley of Penley Horsemanship

Limited Spaces
Available

Saturday, July 28th

at Balmy Acres, Middleboro, MA
9AM – 4PM (1 hour lunch break)

The clinic will be a combination of “Gaining Control of your Horse’s Feet” and “Achieving Softness.” The clinic will be geared towards creating a willing equine partner that gives to rider’s seat, leg, and hand pressure. Participants will learn several exercises both from the ground and under saddle. Adjustments will be made according to the horses and riders that participate in the clinic.

About the Clinicians: Penley Horsemanship is owned and operated by Jared and Cara Penley. They pride themselves in providing natural horsemanship training for any discipline that results in safe, trusting, and reliable horses. Jared is the trainer and personally works with each and every horse that comes through the program. Cara works with the business side, teaches lessons, and assists Jared with the horses when she is not busy working as an agricultural real estate appraiser.
